Our Firm

Carrboro Capital Corporation is a private investment firm formed to provide business owners with a discreet and professional means of transitioning their ownership to a new generation of company builders. Our investment objective is to support management teams in lower middle market companies located in the Southeast and Mid-Atlantic regions of the U.S. We seek opportunities to invest in companies in traditional industries that offer stable, predictable cash flows and may benefit from consolidation, growth capital, or a new capital structure.

In addition to our management team, the investment arm of Carrboro is backed by a group of investors with extensive experience in acquiring and operating companies. The investor group includes entrepreneurs with experience in manufacturing, healthcare, restaurants, real estate, and finance. Carrboro uses its investor network to gain insight into particular industries and to help portfolio companies strategically manage and grow their business.

Investment Criteria

- Less than $3 million of EBITDA
- Headquartered in the Southeast or Mid-Atlantic Region
- Experienced management team
- Healthcare, manufacturing, and business service industries
- Acquisitions in the clinical trials industry

Our Portfolio

In October 2008, we acquired and merged two clinical research sites to form National Clinical Research Inc. (“NCR”) based in Richmond, VA. NCR is a dedicated clinical research facility that conducts Phase II through IV clinical studies for the world's leading pharmaceutical companies and Contract Research Organizations. Carrboro is actively looking for add-on investment opportunities for NCR that either expand its geographic presence or increase the number of therapeutic areas.
